

HERALD BACHELOR CLUB No. 8

The town this summer, and, indeed, the surrounding country as well, will be owned and operated by the young people who are just now returning from schools and colleges. The things that seem to run for you and me are all a delusion—they really go round and round only for these lords and ladies of creation, the summer boys and girls. And why for not? as the Highlandman would say. Aren't they the real people after all. A few days ago a lady was asked to select a large vault in a safety deposit place for her valuables. She was shown the very largest the place held, but she shook her head and said, "No that wouldn't be large enough for my boy and all the valuables I have. After all, these youngsters around here are the people with whom we are to be allowed to be as happy as old folks can be by and by, and besides, think of the pleasure it gives just to be able to have them around, their joys and delights shedding joy and delight around us as the June roses shed their perfume."

DOHL BARET.

AFFAIRS MATRIMONIAL.

The largest and most elaborate wedding of the season will be the Daly-Lillard wedding Wednesday evening, when Miss Eudora Chambers Daly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Daly, and Mark W. Lillard of Portland, Ore., will be married in the new St. Mary's cathedral. The ceremony will be performed by Bishop Laurence Scanlan, and following it a large reception will be given at the Daly home, nearby. The wedding party will be a large one, the bride being attended by her sister, Mrs. J. W. J. Roberts, as matron of honor. Miss Alma Wall as maid of honor and Miss Alice Wall as bridesmaid. The best man will be Graham A. Griswold of Portland, and the ushers will be John J. Barry, George J. Barry, Jack Lloyd, Bert Daly, the two little nieces, Miss Irene and Evelyn Brown, will be the flower girls, and Miss Wall and Maurice Daly will bear the ring. There are two interesting features connected with the wedding. Not alone is it the first wedding to be performed in the new cathedral, but it will be the first time that the magnificent new organ will be played for a wedding. Miss Nora Gleason, the organist, has prepared a splendid program of music to be rendered both before the ceremony and during it, and altogether it will be an event in musical circles as well as social.

Another wedding of the week will be that of Miss Irma Eberhardt and Charles A. McFarland, which takes place at the home of the bride's parents at 7:30 on Wednesday evening. The ceremony will be witnessed by only the families of the two young people, and a reception from 8 to 10 will follow. Mrs. H. A. Knight of Barbours, Wis., the mother of the groom, is here for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Culmer of Bellingham, Wash., formerly of this city, announce the engagement of their daughter Hazel, to Walter J. Lewis, Jr. The marriage will take place July 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Young announce the engagement of their daughter Ivy to Walter J. Lewis, Jr. The marriage will take place on June 17.

James Farrell announces the engagement of his daughter Lila to Montanero Elliott, the marriage to take place within a short time.

CURRENT EVENTS IN SALT LAKE SOCIETY

Mrs. L. E. Hall left yesterday for Mount Holyoke, Mass., to attend a reunion of her class, which was graduated from that institution forty years ago this month. Of the class of forty-six which finished at that time, there will be present thirty-three of Mrs. Hall's classmates. An interesting fact is that Mrs. Hall's alma mater is that of her mother, the late Mrs. Mary Hood, as well as that two of Mrs. Hall's daughters are graduates of the same college. Mrs. Hall will be gone some six weeks or so. She will be joined in Colorado by two of the classmates, and three will go from California, but the rest are in the eastern states.

Russell L. Tracy is in Los Angeles, where he went early in the week to attend the wedding on Thursday evening last of his niece, Miss Mercile Winslow, and Scott Boyd. Miss Winslow was a guest at the Tracy home during the winter and made many friends in Salt Lake. Mr. Tracy will return the latter part of the week and will leave later in the summer to join Mrs. Tracy and Russell, Jr., at Lake Minnetonka, for which place Mrs. Tracy and her son and Miss Louise Stubbfield will leave shortly. Mrs. Tracy will spend the summer with her brother there, and Miss Stubbfield will divide her time between there and St. Paul.

The Country club presented a gay scene last evening, when the place was filled with guests out to enjoy the table d'hôte dinner and the dance in the evening. While no notably large dinners were on, there were numerous small affairs for four, six or eight, and all the guests remained after for the dance in the evening. The daytime, too, was well filled with events, and despite the fact that no formal tea was in order, the living rooms and the veranda were filled all afternoon with members either resting from play or visiting.

The Misses Amy and Isabel Osborne entertained yesterday afternoon at bridge for Miss Eudora Daly. Six tables of the game were played and a dozen more friends came in for tea later. The home was bright with flowers, a great basket of snowballs filling the center of the tea table, and red peonies decorated the parlors and library. At the tea following, Mrs. E. A. Wall and Mrs. Edward J. Roberts poured tea and coffee, and Miss Marion Oberdorfer and Miss Irene Leonard assisted. The two little Brownings girl assisted the doors and greeted the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Child entertained the Daly-Lillard bridal party last evening at their home. A delightful bridge party was followed by a buffet supper. Six tables of bridge were played, and later the hostess, assisted by her sisters, served an elaborate supper. The home on Brigham street was gay with the season's flowers, pink and white, being used through all the rooms.

Miss Sybil Anderson and Miss Elizabeth Lamson who, since landing in New York in May, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith in Washington, are to leave shortly for Salt Lake, where Miss Anderson will visit her sister, Mrs. R. C. Gemmell, for a time, and Miss Lamson will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lamson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Clive and Miss Hazel Hanson entertained last evening at a delightful card party for Miss Jean Spencer and Morrill N. Farr. Only about a score of the intimate friends of the young people were present, and after a few hours, at cards a supper was served. The house was fragrant with June flowers.

Mrs. A. J. Gorham entertained a company of friends yesterday afternoon with a literary tea at her home. Miss Anna Decker gave a review of "Friendship Village," by Zona Gale, and later tea was served. The house was bright with the season's flowers, masses of snowballs and purple iris decorating the rooms.

A number of parties were given Monday evening at the Grand theatre, for the first performance by Mrs. Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pitt entertaining a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Heywood, Mrs. Virginia Tazart, Mrs.

George A. Eaton.

Mr. Eaton has been so long in the bachelor list that he has grown quite accustomed to it, and on more than one interesting leap year occasion he has busily refused to quit. Surrounded by American Beauties, both buds and full-blown flowers, he has enjoyed to the full the delights of being asked, but has failed to properly reciprocate. Someone

"Madam Jumel"

"Madam Jumel" is the name of our newest exclusive sterling flatware design, and although one of many splendid patterns carried by us, we think it has unusual merit.

A practical set in this design will be furnished as follows:

6 Tea Spoons . . .	$4.50
6 Knives	11.50
6 Forks	10.00
3 Table Spoons . .	7.25
1 Butter Knife . .	3.25
1 Sugar Shell . . .	2.00

$38.50

To commence housekeeping this will do nicely; and on birthdays, wedding anniversaries and Christmas add a piece or a dozen pieces, and in a few years your silver service will have become very complete, and at a cost that has hardly been realized.

That is the best way to get acquainted with "Madam Jumel."
